KNOCKS 'HELL' OUT OF NAME.

So between Patchogue and Port Jefson and lives in Seitz Court, Patchs, is Mrs. Baylis's brother-in-law, a told him about the Peeping Tom terday, and last night at 10 o'clock concealed himself behind a tree on lawn of the Baylis homestead. With in his piace of concealment was botgun loaded with rock salt.

The peoper appeared at 10.20 o'clock.

"Stop or I'll shoot," yelled Mr. Lawrence.

The fugitive put on more speed. Then Mr. Lawrence took careful aim and pulled the trigger. The peeper was about fifty feet away.

The effect of the shot was remarkable. The peeper clasped himself with both hands at a point that might be described as amidships aft, uttered a yell that was heard over half of Patchogue, turned to the right and cleared a six-foot hedge in one jump. Then he took five fences in succession and vanished down the main road, moving, it is estimated, at the rate of about sixty miles an hour. All observers agree that never in their lives have they seen any human being proceed with such uniform rapidity.

Some fear was expressed that if he kept on going he might be drowned by running off Montauk Point, but information sifted into Patchogue later in the night that the peeper had not passed the outskirts of the settlement. He was in the midst of the populace with the rock salt in his midst, the information stated. Hence the unusual alertness of the people of Patchogue to-day.

Many sections of the people refuse to form part of the new Albanian principality established by powers after the Balkan war.

Since late in April this year, the inhabitants of Northern Epirus have been fighting against the inclusion of the district in the new state of Albania.

Many women and children were massacred and the greater part of the town was burned.

On May 6 the Epirotes captured 250 Mohammedan Albanians at Hermova and crucified them in the Orthodox Church at Kodra, afterward setting fire to the building and burning the bodies. The insurgents afterward threatened the town of Koritsa in the Freie Presse, Essad Pasha had an audience with Prince William on Monday and tendered his resignation as Governor. Essad Pasha had 300 adherents in his residence and 5,000 in Durasso. They started a revolt on Tuesday, Essad himself firing the first shot against the Prince's palace.

The Prince thereupon appealed to the commanders of the Italian and Austrian warships. They landed detachments, who set up machine guns in front of Essad Pasha's house. The Turkish commander then asked permission to be allowed to go on board an Italian warship. This was refused, and he was arrested and placed aboard the Austrian warship Saigetvar, as the Prince's prisoner.

Trinity House Has Aided England in Becoming Leading Seafaring Nation

LONDON, May 20 .- The 400th year of the foundation of Trinity House, the world famous corporation af master mariners, chartered on May 20, 1514, by Henry VIII., was celebrated to-day.

At the time of its chartering the or ganisation was described as "the guild or fraternity of the most glorious and undividable Trinity of St. Clement." Its founder was Sir Thomas Spert, commander of the famous battleship Harry Grace de Dieu and comptroller of the navy. At first it was mainly concerned with supplying ing Deptford Royal Dockyard, but Henry VIII. increased its prestige by handing over to the corporation the direction of that dockyard.

Queen Elizabeth entrusted the corporation with what constitutes its chief modern duty by handing over to it authority to creet beacons and oth-er marks for the guidance of naviga-tors around the English coasts.

"No. Gladys," said Mrs. Cumrox,"
"You cannot go to the party to-night."
"Why not?"

It was expected that the Cabinet at its meeting to-day would consider the re-quest by a deputation of members if Parliament, who asked Premier Asquith to reconsider England's refusal to ex-hibit at the fair

TVITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the weak stomach. Gives good digestion. Enlivers the sluggish liver. Feeds the starved nerves. Again full health and strength return. A general upbuilding enables the heart to pump like an engine running in oil. The vital force is once more established to full power. Year in and year out for over forty years this great health-restoring remedy has been spreading throughout the entire world—because of its ability to make the sick well and the weak strong. Don't despair of "being your old self again." Give this vegetable remedy a trial—Today—New. You will soon feel "like new again." Sold in liquid or tablet form by Druggistsortrial box for 50c by mail.
